FAIRFIELD

1795 West Wesley Road

From the winding wooded lanes of Connecticut Back Country, where the fabled estates of Fairfield County co-exist with historic Colonial homes, came the inspiration for "Fairfield," the 1795 West Wesley Road residence designed by William T. Baker. In one of Buckhead's most prestigious and private neighborhoods, the Shingle-Style country home presents a welcoming entrance with two columned porches and center and side cupolas gracing the Tennessee fieldstone and cedar shake exterior.

Triple French doors open to a private, level rear lawn, site of the pool and pool house. Within, entertaining and family rooms capture the natural light. Extraordinarily fine custom moldings, finishes and antique heart pine floors create an ambience of warmth and elegance. In addition to the main floor master suite, with luxurious Carrera marble bath and dual walk-in closets, there are five bedrooms and six full baths. On the terrace level are a theater and gathering room adjacent to the wine cellar, while the exercise room and full bath offer an in-home spa experience.

"Fairfield" is exclusively offered by Studie Young of Harry Norman, Realtors Buckhead office.
